TWO SONGS.

BY EDWARD RENAUD.

I.—GO!

Ah! not to-night—my soul is sore with pain;
Ah! not to-night, for thou wilt plead in vain.
Though sweet thy voice as fall of summer rain,
Friend, I can find no other word, but—no—
There!—leave me!—Go!

I cannot hear thy pleading. For my tears
I cannot see thy face. Those weary years
Sweep wild across me with their doubts and fears,
Wilt thou obey my anxious 'hest?—I know
But that word—Go!

Birds pair not here in winter; South they hie,
I dare not bid thee hope; ah! no, not I.
Weak hearts brave not the danger. I must fly
Lest through my weakness I should yet forego
This whispered—no.

Go, friend! the sun is sinking down the west.
To-morrow I may calm this wild unrest;
But, ah! to-night I would be left unblest.
Seek me again, I may not answer no;
Go, darling, Go!

II.—STAY.

Sweet, I have sought for thee long years in vain,
O'er wastes of barren land and o'er the main;
But now thy love, my sweet, shall make it pain.
'Tis not the cruel voice of yesterday
Which bids thee stay.

Love, I have pined for thee long, weary years.
Sweet, I have poured for thee a wealth of tears.
Ah! kiss me, love, and charm these idle fears.
There! there!—the last tear trace is kissed away.
And now, dear, stay!

In summer airs the swallows homeward fly;
They seek their happy nests; so fain would I.
As flowers in rainless summers droop and die,
So have I pined through many a weary day
To bid thee stay.

I hear the feet of angels down the west;
And in my soul a yearning half-expressed
Bids thee remain, my sweet, my wedding guest.
Let this requite thee for my cruel nay:
Ah! darling, stay!

JASON CREEL.

AN INCIDENT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The mist of the morning still hung heavily on the mountain-top above the village of Redcliff, but the roads which led toward it were crowded with the varied population of the surrounding country from far and near. At Aylesbury the shops were closed; the hammer of the blacksmith lay upon its anvil; not a wagon of any description was to be seen in the street; and even the bar of the tavern was locked, and the key gone with its proprietor toward the cliff, as a token of an important era which was without a parallel in the annals of the place. And save here and there a solitary head looking through a broken pane in some closed-up house, with an air of sad disappointment; or the cries of a little nursling were heard, betokening that in the general flight, it had been left in unskillful hands; or, mayhap, here and there a solitary, ragged and ill-natured school-boy was seen, or a not less solitary and ill-natured dog, either seeming but half-appeased by the privilege of a holiday, granted on condition of staying at home—the whole village exhibited a picture of desertion and silence which had been unknown before.

But in proportion as you drew nearer the ponderous cliffs, in the midst of which the little town of Redcliff was situated, you mingled again in the thick bustle and motion of the world, of men and women, and boys, and horses, and dogs, and all living, moving and creeping things that inhabit the wild districts of Pennsylvania.

The village itself was crowded to overflowing long before the sun had gained a sufficient altitude to throw its rays upon the deep valley, in which it lay. There the bar of an inn was crowded, and the fumes of tobacco and whisky, jingling of small change, and the perpetual clamor of the throng, were sufficient to rack a brain of common flexibility. In the streets, there was a greeting of old and long-parted acquaintances; the bartering of horses; the settling of old accounts; the buffoonery of half intoxicated men; the clatter of women; the crying and hallooing of children and boys, and the barking and quarreling of stranger dogs.

To look upon the scene, to mingle with the crowd, to listen to the conversation, or to survey the countenances of the assembled multitude, led to no satisfactory solution of the cause for which this mass of heterogeneous matter was congregated.

Within the walls of the old stone jail, at the foot of the mountain, a different scene had been that morning witnessed. There chained to a stake in the miserable dungeon, damp, and scarcely illuminated by one ray of light, now lay the emaciated form of one whose final doom seemed near at hand. A few hours before, his wife and little daughter had traveled a hundred miles to meet him once more on the threshold of the grave; they met, and from that gloomy vault the hymn ascended with the ascending sun; and the jailer, as he listened to the melodious voices of three persons whom he looked upon as the most desolate and lost of all in the wide world, almost doubted the evidence of his senses, and stood in fixed astonishment at the massive door. Could these be the voices of a murderer and a murderer's wife and child?

This brief, and to be final interview, had passed, however; those unfortunate ones had loudly commended each other to the keeping of their heavenly Parent, and parted; he to face the assembled multitude on the scaffold, and they, as they said, to return by weary journeys to their sorrowful home. The convict, worn out with sickness and watching, now slept soundly.

His name was Jason Creel; his place of residence said to be in Virginia. He had been taken up while traveling from the northward to his home, and tried and convicted at a country town some miles distant, for the murder of a traveler, who had borne him company from the Lakes, and was ascertained to have had a large sum of money with him, and who was found in the room in which they both slept at a country inn, near Redcliff, with his throat cut.

Creel had always protested his innocence, declaring that the deed was perpetrated by some one while he was asleep; but the circumstances were against him; and although the money was not found on him, he was sentenced to be hanged, and had been removed to the old stone jail at Redcliff for security, the county jail being deemed unsafe. This was the day the execution was to take place; the scaffold was already erected; the crowd pressed round the building, and frequent cries of "Bring out the murderer!" were heard.

The sun at last told the hour of eleven, and there could be no more delay; the convict's cell was entered by the officers in attendance, who aroused him with the informatien that all was ready for him without, and bade him hasten to his execution; they laid hands upon him, and pinioned him tight, while he looked up toward heaven in wild astonishment, as one new born, and only said: "The dream—the dream!"

"What dream, Mr. Jason?" said the sheriff. "You would do me a great kindness, if you would dream yourself and me out of this disagreeable business."

"I dreamed," replied the convict, "that while you read the death warrant to me on the scaffold, a man came through the crowd, and stood before us in a gray dress, with a white hat and large whiskers, and that a bird fluttered over him, and sang distinctly: "This is Lewis, the murderer of the traveler."

The officers and jailer held a short consultation, which ended in a determination to look sharply after the man in grey with white hat; accompanied with many hints of the resignation of the prisoner, and the possibility of his innocence being asserted by a supernatural agency. The prison doors were cleared; and Creel, pale and feeble, with a hymn-book in his hand, and a mien all meekness and humility, was seen tottering from the prison to the scaffold. He had no sooner ascended it, than his eyes began to wander over the vast concourse of people around him, with a scrutiny that seemed like faith in dreams; and while the sheriff read the warrant, the convict's anxiety appeared to increase; he looked, and look again; then raised his hands and eyes a moment to the clear sky, as if breathing a last ejaculation, when lo! as he resumed his first position, the very person he described stood within six feet of the ladder!

The prisoner's eye caught the sight, and flashed with fire while he called out: "There is Lewis the murderer of the traveler!" and the jailer at the same moment seized the stranger by the collar. At first he attempted to escape; but being secured, and taken before the magistrates, he confessed the deed, detailed all the particulars, delivered up part of the money, informed where another part was hidden, and was fully committed for trial—while Creel was set at liberty, and hastened, like a man out of his senses, from the scaffold.

Three days had elapsed; Creel had vanished immediately after his liberation, when the pretended Lewis astonished and confounded the magistrates by declaring Creel to be her husband; that she had concealed the disguise, and performed the whole part by his direction; that he had given her the money; which he had successfully concealed; and that the whole from the prison to the scaffold scene, was a contrivance to effect his escape, which having effected she was regardless of consequences. Nothing could be done with her—she was set at liberty, and neither she nor her husband was heard of again.

THE CURIOUS.—Some people are fond of puzzling over curious items, and for the benefit of all such persons the following conundrum or riddle or puzzle is inserted among the records of the reading-room. In the first place, an impossibility must be supposed possible, namely, that a man thirty-five years old marries a girl of five, which makes the groom seven times as old as the bride. When the girl is ten years old the man is forty, and four times as old as his wife; when she is fifteen the man is forty-five, that is three times as old. When she is thirty, the man is sixty, that is twice as old as his wife, and now will somebody be good enough to ascertain how long they have to live together to make the girl as old as the man! It is just barely possible that an answer to this question is as impossible as the hypothesis on which the whole thing is based. That is for the curious to ascertain, however. All answers should be sent to the office of the San Francisco Bulletin, and the successful individual, whether by actual experiment or not is unimportant, will find his or her name recorded in the obituary column of the aforesaid journal.

IT WAS DONE.—Piggy got into a large yard where he did not belong, and trying to get out again he stuck fast under a high board fence, and there began to kick and squeal in the good old way. His master, a big, fat Irishman, hearing the hubbub, ran out of the house near by, and caught his pig by the ears, endeavoring to pull him through the hole before the trespass was detected. But this treatment had no effect but to make the pig yell the more. An old ram in the yard hearing the noise, and seeing piggy's hind-legs and tail flourishing away in a menacing manner, accepted what he thought was a challenge and lowering his head charged with all his might. He struck his mark squarely and fairly, and the pig shot through the hole like a pork cannon-ball, and striking his master full in the breast, knocked him flat on his back. The only person who witnessed this closing scene was just entering the yard, and not being aware how many actors were engaged in it, was very much surprised to hear what he supposed to be the pig, swearing in Irish on the other side of the fence.

COMING DOWN.—Samuel Harriman, of St. Croix, Wis., retired from military life with a brevet-brigadiership. "Good-bye, General," were the parting words of his old comrades in the army. "How are you, Colonel?" was the salutation on reaching Wisconsin. As he approached home, this began to come down to "How d'ye do, Captain;" and finally, when he came among the boys at home, he was greeted with "Halloo, Sam; got back again?"

As Others See Us.

Here is a pretty state of affairs! A traveling Frenchman has gone home, and, according to custom, written a book about us, or rather our fashionable society, which is hardly grateful, after its devoted fealty to Napoleon and his court during the late fracas. Whether he hits the nail on the head our readers must decide by their own sensitiveness, and how far it is hurt. On the matter of fashionable religion he is very plain spoken. "The Americans accept nominally the Christian religion; but their real affections and homage are placed everywhere; a glass of liquor or a pipe of tobacco is oftener in their thoughts than the sacred mysteries of their faith. They bring their infants, handsomely clothed, to the font, but without any apparent motive or subsequent zeal for their salvation. But while thus dull and blockish in matters of religion they are extremely subtle and expert in all that concerns trade or profit."

As regards dress, our author asserts that the men are properly clothed, but the women are neither decent nor cleanly. "They grease and stiffen their hair inserting flowers and feathers in the nasty mass, and daub their faces with various earths and paints. In their public feasts and dances, the exposure of their persons is shamefully lewd." Of the treatment of criminals, he says: "These barbarians delight in the torture of those condemned to die, the wretches being forced to look upon the preparations for days before-hand. When the execution takes place, it is made a kind of raree show or holiday for the whole nation, and talked over with all its horror in every family. This is for the purpose of giving to the children the taste for blood and human torture." We bewail our dead, he says, with vehement and unseemly outcry, burying costly garments with them and performing the ceremony of burial with the display of such wealth as we have, so that it is apparent we believe the rich stuffs and and ornaments will give pleasure to the dead in the future world, "so brutish and besotted are their opinions of God and His Kingdom." Men, he asserts, are "exceedingly unchaste, often keeping more than one wife, though unacknowledged; marriage is in fact among these classes only a civil contract made on the grounds of expediency or aggrandizement, rather than affection. There are certain among them who think it a hardship to be compelled to continue married to the same person for any length of time." Our friend has evidently fallen in with the Woodhull brigade of the Advanced Female cohorts, and states their argument very fairly; "'How is it possible,' they say to me, 'for a man to be subject to the bonds of marriage? Don't you see how little reason you have? My wife is not pleased with me, neither am I at ease with her. My neighbor may like her better, and I may like his, who does not care so much for him. Why should you oblige us to live like cat and dog, when, by only changing one with another, we can live at quiet?' Thus their argument proceeds in favor of their brutishness." There are certain jugglers also among these people, he says, who profess to recall the dead. But on turning to the next chapter we find it treats of cannibalism. Surely we reformed, in that particular at least, some centuries ago.

We have been mistaken, it appears. The book is by Le Sieur de la Salle, and was printed in 1862, and it is not our fashionable society he is describing, but the man eating savages of Iroquis. But the mistake was natural, after all.—N. Y. Tribune.

New branches of business are continually springing up as the wants of society call for them. Certain persons having complained to the Insurance Herald that people are exposed to sundry physical perils in endeavoring to obtain settlements with insurance companies a muscular individual "six feet high, fighting weight one hundred and eighty-six," announces himself as an "assistant adjuster," and makes the following liberal offer; "Claimants accompanied to and from the offices, and attended while there—they do the talking, I the fighting. Adjusters put in chancery—their bread baskets punched—bugles bu'sted—peepers closed—mugs smashed with neatness and despatch. All work warranted. Terms reasonable. Widows and other unprotected females escorted at half-price."

AN EPISCOPAL HORSE.—In one of his tours, Elder John Leland came up at night to a public house, where he was acquainted, and where he proposed to pass the night. 'I have," said he, "a very good stable, with all the improvements, for Episcopal horses, and a comfortable sort of stable for Presbyterian horses, while I keep the old barn for Baptist horses; the feed is according to the style of the stable." "Well," replied the Elder, "every body knows that I am a Baptist, but my horse is an Episcopalian."

A New York daily says: In all the newspapers we find notice of Catharine Donavan of Springfield, Mass., the peculiarity of her case being that she has "taken no solid food for two years, and for the last seven months nothing but water." "No solid food" is perfectly consistent with an amount of nutritious aliment sufficient to sustain life; but that Miss Donavan has lived for seven months on water alone we simply decline to believe. She is said to have been injured by falling upon a flour barrel, but not even a homeopathist will contend that falling upon a flour barrel will nourish a patient for seven months.

The Constitutional Convention.

We print this week at length, and accurately, the Act passed at the late session of the Legislature calling a Convention to amend the Constitution of the State, so that our readers at as early a date as possible may be put in possession of the whole plan for selecting members of the Convention and for regulating the proceedings of that body when it shall convene. Upon the whole we think the Act is well adapted to all the purposes for which it was passed; that it will, in all probability, secure a good Convention and judicious changes in the fundamental law of the State.

The plan of representation provided by the act, will secure substantial justice to all electors of the State. All elections of members of the Convention are to be upon the plan of the limited vote, so that all the voters of the State of both parties will be represented with reasonable fairness in the Convention.

The provision in the act that one-third of all the members of the Convention shall have the right to demand a separate popular vote upon any amendment proposed is a most valuable and salutary provision. A mere majority of the Convention cannot compel the people to accept bad or doubtful amendments along with good ones; in other words cannot by submitting their amendments to a popular vote in mass, compel the people to accept or reject all of them together. There can be discrimination by the people when passing upon the work of the Convention and this fact will check the intrusion of party politics or other sinister influence into the Convention proceedings. There is a remarkable but judicious provision in the act for filling the vacancies which may occur in the membership of the Convention. The expense, inconvenience and delay which ordinarily occur in filling official vacancies by popular election will be entirely avoided and yet the vacancies will be properly as well as promptly filled. In any case of vacancy the delegates at large who shall have been voted for by a majority of the voters, who shall have elected the member whose place is to be filled, shall fill the vacancy, thus securing the continued representation of the same class of voters, who chose the member originally and the balance of power in the Convention, or rather the proportionate power of parties in the Convention as fixed by popular election will remain undisturbed. This provision is new but an obvious improvement upon former plans for filling vacancies in representative bodies.

It would seem from the construction of this bill, although it is not declared expressly upon its face, that separate tickets and separate boxes are to be used at the election in voting for and selecting members of the Convention. As we understand the act, ballots for members of the Convention, cannot be placed upon the slips headed "State" "County" or "Judiciary" provided for by recent laws. This point should of course be attended to by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and by Sheriffs of counties in the making up of election proclamations, so that no blunders shall be committed by election officers.

We congratulate the people of the State upon the passage of this very excellent Convention bill and upon the fair prospect which we have now presented to us of good and salutary reform, so much needed and so strongly called for by popular sentiment.

"The Dutchman."

The bad boys of Radicalism have paid Mr. Carl Schurz the highest compliment they could unless they apotheosized him. They have made a "bogey" of him; they conjure by him; they coddle to sleep the long-nursed plans of their fraud and chicanery by the mention of his name, and turn honest by fear of him, as "Panama's maids" turned pale when Bertram's and Risingham's names were whispered in their ears. The War Department began to purge and forswear sack and live cleanly as soon as it was ascertained that "the Dutchman" was on the track of its misdeeds. The long dormant seeds of the Civil Service Reform began to swell, germinate, and sprout in that "cold frame" of the President's bosom, then first when the fiery rays of "the Dutchman's" energy were poured upon them. The Robesonian commerce in brickdust, which had begun so prosperously from New Jersey to the Pacific via Cape Horn—commerce unexampled since Solomon fetched gold and sandal wood by a three years' voyage from Ophir, to build his temple withal—discovered itself to be a bubble suspected itself to be a cheat, and collapsed suddenly as soon as "the Dutchman" bent his inquisitive lunettes upon it. This is a glorious reputation "the Dutchman" has earned—extorted as it is from the fears and hatreds of the nation's plunderers. In some respects it is the greatest contemporary honor that has ever been bestowed upon an American statesman, this that Senator Schurz has won, viz: that his presence alone should have power to quell, rebuke, and intimidate the spirit of fraud and peculation in his own party that is so rampant throughout the land, and that Radical rogues should hide away from him as sneak thieves slink round corners from the sight of the representatives of the law.—Washington Patriot.

The President has signed the bill in relation to bounties. It provides that every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician, and artificer who enlisted into the military service of the United States prior to July 22, 1861, under the proclamation of the President of the United States of May 3, 1861, and orders of the War Department issued in pursuance thereof, and was actually mustered before August 6, 1861, into any regiment, company, or battery which was accepted by the War Department under such proclamation and orders, shall be paid the full bounty of $100, under and by virtue of said proclamation and orders of the War Department in force at the time of such enlistment, and prior to July 22, 1861, provided that the same has not already been paid.

GOV. HOFFMAN has vetoed the new charter for New York city on the grounds of doubtful constitutionality, and other objections. The legislature sustained his veto by an overwhelming vote.

The Constitutional Convention Act.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c. That at the general election to be held on the second Tuesday in October next, there shall be elected by the qualified electors of this commonwealth delegates to a convention to revise and amend the constitution of this State. The said convention shall consist of one hundred and thirty-three members, to be elected in manner following; Twenty-eight members thereof shall be elected in the State at large, as follows: Each voter of the State shall vote for not more than fourteen candidates, and the twenty-eight highest in vote shall be declared elected. Ninety-nine delegates shall be appointed to and elected from the different Senatorial Districts of the State; three delegates to be elected for each senator therefrom; and in choosing all district delegates each voter shall be entitled to vote for not more than two of the members to be chosen from his district, and the three candidates highest in vote shall be declared elected except in the county of Allegheny, forming the Twenty-third Senatorial District, where no voter shall vote for more than six candidates, and the nine highest in vote shall be elected; and in the counties of Luzerne, Monroe and Pike, forming the Thirteenth Senatorial District, where no voter shall vote for more than four candidates, and the six highest in vote shall be elected; and six additional delegates shall be chosen from the city of Philadelphia, by a vote at large in said city, and in their election no voter shall vote for more than three candidates, and the six highest in vote shall be declared elected.

SEC. 2. The following regulations shall apply to the aforesaid election to be held on the second Tuesday of October next, and to returns of the same.

First. The said election shall be held and conducted by the proper election officers of the several election districts of the commonwealth, and shall be governed and regulated in all respects by the general election laws of the commonwealth, so far as the same shall be applicable thereto and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

Second. The tickets to be voted for members at large of the convention shall have on the outside the words "delegates at large," and on the inside the names of the candidates to be voted for, not exceeding fourteen in number.

Third. The tickets to be voted for district members of the convention shall have on the outside the words "district delegates," and on the inside the name or names of the candidates voted for, not exceeding the proper number limited as aforesaid; but any ticket which shall contain a greater number of names than the number for which the voter shall be entitled to vote shall be rejected; and in the case of the delegates to be chosen at large in Philadelphia the words "city delegates" shall be on the outside of the ticket.

Fourth. In the city of Philadelphia the return judges shall meet at the State House, at ten o'clock, on the Thursday next following the election, and make out the returns for said city of the votes cast therein for delegates at large, and city and district delegates to be members of the convention. The return judges of the several election districts within each county of the State, excluding Philadelphia, shall meet on the Friday next following the election at the usual place for the meeting of the return judges of their county, and shall make out full and accurate returns for the county of the votes cast therein for members of the convention and for district members of the same; and the proceedings of the return judges of the said city of Philadelphia, and of the several counties of the commonwealth in the making of their returns, shall be the same as those prescribed for return judges in the case of an election for governor, except that returns transmitted to the secretary of the commonwealth shall be addressed to that officer alone and not to the speaker of the senate.

Fifth. The prothonotary of Philadelphia and the prothonotaries of the several counties shall, with reference to such returns, promptly and faithfully perform all the duties enjoined upon them by the eighty fourth and eighty-fifth sections of the general election act of July 2d, 1839.

Sixth. The secretary of the commonwealth shall, as soon as the returns of the said election shall be received by him, and at all events within fifteen days after the election, in the presence of the Governor and auditor-general, open and compute all the returns received of votes given for members of the convention, and the Governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation declaring the names of the persons who have been chosen members of the convention.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the delegates elected as aforesaid to assemble in convention, in the hall of the House of Representatives, at the State capitol, in Harrisburg, on the second Tuesday of November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, at twelve o'clock M. that day, with general powers of adjournment as to time and place; it shall be the duty of the secretary of the commonwealth to call the convention to order at the time of its assembling, and to submit all the returns of election in his possession, and to read the aforesaid proclamation of the Governor, and thereupon said convention shall proceed to organize by electing one of their number president, and, after the members are sworn in, such other officers as may be needed in the transaction of business.

SEC. 4. Said convention, so elected, assembled and organized, shall have the power to propose to the citizens of this commonwealth, for their approval or rejection, a new constitution, or amendments to the present one, or specific amendments, to be voted for separately, which shall be engrossed and signed by the president and chief clerk, and delivered to the secretary of the commonwealth, by whom and under whose direction it or they shall be entered on record in his office and published once a week in at least two newspapers in each county, where two papers are published for four weeks next preceding the day of election that shall be held for the adoption or rejection of the constitution or amendments so submitted: Provided, that one third of all the members of the convention shall have the right to require the separate and distinct submission to a popular vote of any change and amendment proposed by the convention: And provided further, that nothing herein contained shall authorize the said convention to change the language or to alter in any manner the several provisions of the ninth article of the present constitution, commonly known as the Declaration of Rights; but the same shall be excepted from the powers given to said convention, and shall be and remain inviolate forever: And provided further, that the said convention shall not create, establish or submit any proposition for the establishment of a court or courts with exclusive equity jurisdiction.

SEC. 5. The convention shall submit the amendments agreed to by it to the qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection at such time or times and in such manner as the convention shall prescribe; subject, however, to the limitation as to the separate submission of amendments contained in this act and all amendments accepted by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon shall become a part of the constitution.

SEC. 6. The election to decide for or against the adoption of the new constitution, or specific amendments, shall be conducted as the general elections of this commonwealth are now by law conducted; and it shall be the duty of the return judges of the respective counties, first having ascertained the number of votes given for or against the new constitution, or separate specific amendments, if any, to make out duplicate returns thereof expressed in words at length, one of which returns so made shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county, and the other sealed and directed to the secretary of the commonwealth, which said returns shall be opened, counted, and published as the returns for Governor are now by law counted and published; and when the number of votes given for or against the new or revised constitution, or for or against separate specific amendments, if any, shall have been summed up and ascertained, and the duplicate certificates thereof delivered to the proper officers; the Governor shall declare by proclamation the result of the election, and if a majority of the votes polled shall be for the new or revised constitution, or for any separate specific amendments, such new or revised constitution, and separate specific amendments, shall be thenceforth the constitution of this commonwealth.

SEC. 7. The entire compensation and allowance to each member of the convention shall be as follows; for salary, one thousand dollars; for mileage, ten cents per mile circular, not to be allowed at more than two sessions; for postage, stationery and contingencies, fifty dollars; the clerks and other officers to be allowed such compensation as the convention shall direct. Warrants for compensation of members and officers, and for all proper expenses of the convention, shall be drawn by the president and countersigned by the chief clerk upon the State treasurer for payment.

SEC. 8. That in case of vacancies in the membership of said convention, the same shall be filled as follows: If such vacancy shall be of a member at large of the convention, those members at large who shall have been voted for by the same voters, or by a majority of the same voters, who shall have voted for and elected the member whose place is to be filled, shall fill such vacancy. If such vacancy shall be of a district or city member of the convention, those members at large of the convention who shall have been voted for by the same or by a majority of the same voters who shall have voted for such district or city member, shall fill such vacancy. In either case the appointment to fill a vacancy shall be made by the members at large aforesaid, or by a majority of them, in writing, and all such written appointments shall be filed among the convention records.

SEC. 9. That the secretary of the commonwealth shall prepare a form of notice of the election, to be held for the purpose of choosing members of the aforesaid convention, including such portions of this act as shall be necessary and proper for the information of voters and election officers at the said election, as to their respective rights and duties in relation thereto, which said form so prepared shall be transmitted by him to the sheriffs of the several counties, to be observed by them in making proclamation of the holding of said election in their respective jurisdictions.

SEC. 10. That the secretary of the commonwealth be authorized to obtain for said convention, prior to the meeting of the same, such publications relating to constitutional amendment and reform, and cause to be prepared such statistical information as may be convenient and useful to the convention in the performance of its duties, and the proper expense so incurred, not exceeding six hundred dollars, shall be paid at the treasury upon settlement made in the office of the auditor general.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate on Wednesday of last week, Mr. Sumner presented a petition signed by more than 13,000 citizens of the United States, against recognizing God in the Constitution. The Deficiency bill was taken up and discussed, but without final action. The report of the committee appointed to consider the action of the Senate in amending the House bill repealing the duties on tea and coffee expresses the opinion that the action of the Senate was not altogether justifiable.

In the House, Mr. Banks introduced a resolution calling upon the President to demand the immediate release of Dr. Houard and the restoration of his property from the Spanish government. No action, however, was taken on the resolution. The bill known as the Goat Island swindle, with several slight modifications, was passed by a vote of 161 to 85.

In the Senate on Thursday of last week the consideration of the Deficiency bill was proceeded with. Mr. Morrill's amendment as to the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims was considerably amended and agreed to by 22 against 17.

Dr. Houard's case was again warmly debated in the House. Fernando Wood, contending that Dr. Houard was an American citizen and therefore entitled to protection from the United States, said he took that ground with a knowledge of the fact that it might involve the country in a war with Spain. W. R. Roberts severely animadverted upon the conduct of Grant's administration in the matter.

In the Senate on Friday last, the report of the Committee of Conference on the Legislative Appropriation bill was concurred in by 38 against 12.

The House resumed the consideration of the Houard resolution. The preamble—which positively asserts Dr. Houard's citizenship—having been amended by the insertion of the word "alleged," the resolution was adopted by 143 to 45. Mr. Dickey then offered a concurrent resolution for a final adjournment on the 29th of May. Finally the resolution was rejected by 106 nays to 81 yeas.

In the Senate on Saturday the Postal Telegraph, Deficiency and Naval and Post office appropriation bills were discussed.

In the House the Tariff bill occupied the session.

In the Senate on Monday after the presentation of a remonstrance against the repeal of the Eight hour law Mr. Scott moved to limit each Senator speaking upon the amendments to appropriation bills to five minutes. The motion was earnestly opposed by Messrs. Trumbull and Casserly, but was finally carried after a warm discussion, all the administration Senators voting in its favor. The House, beyond concurring in a number of Senate amendments, did little of importance.

In the Senate on Tuesday the Deficiency bill was passed. The bill repealing the duties on tea and coffee was also passed. It does not go into operation until July 1st.

In the House the tea and coffee bill was discussed.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and a Life-giving Principle, a Perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition, enriching it, refreshing and invigorating both mind and body. They are easy of administration, prompt in their action, certain in their results, safe and reliable in all forms of disease.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Grateful thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: There is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Mechanical Diseases. Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, will be subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS once or twice a week, as a Preventive.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. There are always more or less obstructions of the liver, a weakness and irritable state of the stomach, and great torpor of the bowels, being clogged up with vitiated accumulations. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goiter, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic and Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are the best safeguard in all cases of eruptions and malignant fevers, their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect the humors of the fauces. Their Sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, either from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc. Their Counter-Irritant influence extends throughout the system. Their Diuretic properties act on the Kidneys, correcting and regulating the flow of urine. Their Anti-Bilious properties stimulate the liver, in the secretion of bile, and its discharges through the biliary ducts, and are superior to all remedial agents, for the cure of Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus forearmed. The liver, the stomach, the bowels, the kidneys, and the nerves are rendered disease-proof by this great invigorant.

The Efficacy of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, in Chronic Dyspepsia, Fevers, Nervous Disorders, Constipation, deficiency of vital power, and all maladies affecting the stomach, liver, bowels, pulmonary organs, or muscular system, has been experienced by hundreds of thousands, and hundreds of thousands more are asking for the same relief.

Directions.—Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wine-glassfull. Eat good nourishing food, such as beefsteak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirits.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above pointed [illegible], the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful purifying and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of Habitual Constipation of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise.

The proprietor offers $1,000 reward for a medicine that will equal it for the cure of all the diseases for which it is recommended.

Sold by druggists at $1 per bottle. Prepared by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Sole Proprietor, at his Chemical Laboratory, 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. Send your address for a pamphlet.

THE subscription accounts of H. L. Diffenbach having been purchased by C. B. Brockway, settlement of the same will be made to him, instead of C. W. Miller, as heretofore.

RT. REV. M. A. DE WOLFE HOWE, Episcopal Bishop of Central Pennsylvania, has chosen Reading as his residence.

BEER gardens are talked of in Bloomsburg for the coming season, after ye manner of ye Germans.

IT is stated that more rafts have passed down the North Branch this season than for several years past.

PROPERTY on Centre street has risen since the recent grading improvements began. Most of the houses have gone up in the air about eighteen inches.

WE are authorized to state that Judge Elwell is not a candidate for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court, and that he will not be, under any circumstances.

THE April report of the Agricultural Bureau at Washington sets forth that, although the winter has killed much vegetation, the wheat crop generally looks well except on really poor ground.

Tunkhannock papers state that the water pipes in that airy burgh are still frozen and that the water company has had its hands full of trouble in consequence. An ice state of affairs.

A brakeman on the L & B. R. R. named Kromer broke his leg on Monday morning whilst making a flying switch a short distance above the Station. He is from Berwick we are informed.

The new watering cart made its appearance on Monday to the delight of our dust-choked citizens. As it is a "thing of beauty" it will of course prove "a joy forever" as long as warm weather continues.

A MOVEMENT is said to be on foot among the principal railroads to conduct, control and manage the package express business on their roads, and thus derive the benefit of the profits on this class of traffic themselves, instead of the express companies.

CIRCUSES, are on the wing. We hear of them in every direction but none of them have announced their intention of visiting Bloomsburg. Barnum's big show will visit Danville on the 23d of this month and will undoubtedly attract numbers of people.

We are informed that the new Hotel building will need 500,000 brick in its construction. This certainly gives evidence that it will be of goodly size. Work still goes on vigorously; the foundation walls are nearly laid and some of the basement doors and window frames are set.

IF any of our younger readers are of an arithmetical turn of mind here is a question which may perhaps interest them. A young man asked a young lady her age, to which she replied, "6 times 7 and 7 times 3 added to my age, will exceed 6 times 9 and 4, as double my age exceeds 20."

IT is reported that the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, intend shortly to appoint a resident agent for every town in our State, whose duty it will be to report to headquarters all cases of cruel abuse to dumb animals which may come under his notice.

A prominent American physician, in a recent lecture, stated that experiments show that animals die in a few weeks when fed on fine flour alone. He thinks there is wisdom in the old-time practice of restricting prisoners to coarse bread. It is stated in some medical journals that coarse bread is also necessary for the proper growth and perfection of the teeth.

THE change in the appearance of vegetation under the influence of the warm weather of late is most marked. We do most urgently need rain, and without it the grass and grain will alike suffer. The roads are dry as dust can make them and are anything but pleasant to drive over. The fall of rain on Wednesday evening was grateful but not sufficient.

Some of the earlier Spring flowers have made their appearance, among others that most delicious little wild flower the trailing arbutus. It is much to be regretted that all efforts to cultivate this fragrant plant have been in vain. It is one of the first to greet us in the Spring, and its pink and white cups exhale perfume of the most delicate description.

LIQUOR laws seem to be productive of legal trouble. Here in Pennsylvania the local option law is openly denounced as unconstitutional and, in one case at least it, has been pronounced so judicially, and in Ohio it has been discovered that the liquor law is "imperfect," owing to the omission of the words "General Assembly" from the enacting clause, making it read "Be it enacted by the State of Ohio." The validity of the law will be tested in a few days.

THE Agricultural Association of this county will meet in the Court House on the 18th of this month.

RT. REV. BISHOP HOWE will administer the sacred rite of confirmation on Monday evening next at St. Paul's Church, this town.

By the awarding of the seat in the U. S. Senate to Gen. Ransom the new Democratic Senator from North Carolina, all the States in the Union are represented for the first time since 1860.

JAMES W. CHEMBERLIN, formerly of Bloomsburg, and well known to our townsmen, has been appointed cashier of the First National Bank of Plymouth.

IT is a good time to look for borers in your peach trees. It takes but a minute to examine a tree, and these examinations are a necessity for success in fruit growing.

THE Tyrone Herald wants a man for County Superintendent who has a "decent war record." What in the name of all that's glorious does a Superintendent want of a "war record" unless it's an inoffensive one like Geary's? Is it desirable to establish military discipline in county schools and flog scholars according to the "Revised Army Regulations?"

HERE is an item which must prove of interest to the ladies.

"A Minnesota woman has invented a fan to be attached to a sewing machine and put in motion by the same power."

This is sensible and we have no doubt will prove popular. Some of our agents should see to it at once that the fan addition is made to all their sewing machines.

The Montour American says: "They are going to contract the election of James Dennis (colored) to the Council in Bloomsburg." What is meant we cannot say. Whether contract is intended in the sense of reductino or whether it means that the job is to be let to the highest bidder, is something which the Danville mind may determine satisfactorily but outsiders cannot.

WE have not heard of any proposed action as regards "Decoration Day" this year. Are there to be any ceremonies? It would be rather a pity to allow the custom to fall into desuetude, if it were only for the sakes of those gushing orators who rise into temporary importance on that day. For them it would be severe, although the mass of the people might bear up under the deprivation.

LETTERS once taken from the post office by the proper parties, or delivered to the address, cannot be forwarded without again being prepaid. As the violation of this regulation is a matter of daily occurence, it should be understood that such letters deposited in the post office for mailing, on which the postage is not prepaid, are sent to the Dead Letter Office; that printed matter cannot be remailed xcept upon prepayment at transient rates of postage in stamps.

The continued dry weather is a matter of general comment. If it should continue until very warm days become the rule, there will be much to dread in the way of thunder storms with accompanying high winds, at least this has generally proved to be the result of drought in hot weather. A very destructive storm of this kind recently occurred in England destroying life and property. There have already been two or three dog days, the thermometer in Springfield Mass. marking 92 degrees in the shade and 89 degrees in Philadelphia. This is remarkable at so early a date and "presages wrath" we fear.

WHITEWASH.—As this is the season for whitewashing we publish the following receipt:—Slake half a bushel of unslaked lime with boiling water, keeping it covered during the process. Strain it and add a peck of salt, dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice put in boiling water and boiled to thin paste; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clear glue, dissolved in warm water; mix these well together, and let the mixture stand for several days. Keep the wash thus prepared in a kettle or portable furnace, and when used put it on as hot as possible, with a painter's or whitewash brush.

THERE is one paper, at least, in the State which is mightily tickled by the nomination of Hartrauft, and that one is the Muncy Luminary. In the last issue a list of the principal battles of the war are given all of which we presume the Harrisburg nominee "fit into" and won. The Luminary luminously observes further that his name is "a tower of strength" and that "he is the right man in the right place." The majority of Republicans in the State do not seem to think so, therefore the Luminary man may be said to have assumed an independent position.

GRUMBLERS AT NEWSPAPERS.—It is strange how closely men read the papers. We never say any thing that anybody don't like, but we soon hear of it, and everybody is sure to tell us of it. If however, once in a while, we happen to say a good thing, we never hear of that; nobody seems to notice that. We may pay some man a hundred compliments, and give him a dozen puffs and he takes it all as a tribute of his greatness, and he never thinks of it; never thinks it does him any good. But if we happen to say things this man don't like, or something he imagines is a reflection on him or his character, see how quick he flares up and gets mad about it. All our evils are duly charged to us, but we never apparently, get any credit for what we do.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—As the season of the year is at hand when a person need not do much racing to "catch" a cold, we herewith publish a few of the many cures offered to the public by charitable persons: Sleep with a hot brick at your feet—avoid getting it in your hat—keep out of the cold air—keep your mouth shut—take a hot bath—take a cold bath—avoid bathing—avoid cold water—tie an old stocking around your neck when you are about to retire—rub your neck with goose oil—take snuff—feed a cold and starve a fever—ate Cayenne pepper—drink hot catnip tea, sassafras tea, black tea, white tea, green tea, dry tea—wear flannel—eat pickles—chew licorice root—take a sweat.

A Negro Councilman in Bloomsburg.

In several of our exchanges we observe a sensational article, copied from the Danville Intelligencer, concerning the alleged election of a colored man as one of the six councilmen chosen at the late election in Bloomsburg and charging the result upon the plan of reformed voting in force here, with sundry observations thereon somewhat more flippant than wise.

And thereupon it may be well to mention:

1. That no negro councilman was, in point of fact, elected.

2. That if the colored candidate who was run by a few vicious radicals had been chosen, he would have been a perfectly fit representative of the men who supported him.

3. That this town election exhibited in a clear light one of the advantages of reformed voting at popular elections over the old plan of minority disfranchisement. And on this point we rise to an explanation which every one will understand when it is made.

Be it known that in our town, prior to 1870, the local administration was inefficient, improvident and abusive. We had heavy taxes and very little of improvement. Public spirit was discouraged and kept down because we were in the hands of fossils and jobbers who dominated the local elections and controlled the whole local administration. Elections were political, mostly, and a small number of persons, with personal objects, held the balance of power and forced themselves into nominations and filled a large part of the offices. They gave us swingeing taxes and accumulated debts which are not yet fully discharged while we saw but little of result from the heavy expenditure. A change came with the organization of the town under a good charter in the spring of 1870, the advantages of which are evident on every hand. Streets have been repaired and graded, new ones opened, a town map made founded on thorough surveys and approved by the court, a lock up erected, and energy and improvement generally infused into the administration of the town. Many men have held and some now hold offices who would not have been chosen under the old system, nor permitted their names to be used under that system for nomination. Meantime, taxes have been reduced for current outlays and much the greater part paid the last year was upon the old debt.

The principal feature in the town charter, under which these results have occurred, is that of the free vote, by which the people of the town are for the first time fully and fairly represented and all power of controlling elections by cliques and jobbers is taken away. But of course a few men—insignificant in number and influence—are aggrieved by their loss of control in local affairs. They no longer hold a balance of power between parties, and cannot force themselves into nominations or get for themselves and their friends the patronage of the town. This is one of the capital results of reformed voting of which only fossils and sharks can complain, but which the great body of the people heartily approve and applaud.

These persons ran a negro for councilman at the town election, manifesting thereby their spite, folly and impotence. They had not votes enough to elect him and were too stupid even to cast what few votes they had correctly. The only success they had was to get their man returned through a palpable error of the election officers (which will be corrected by our court, which sits next week) and thus furnish an opportunity for temporary misrepresentation abroad.

Under the old plan of voting a little squad of radicals and negroes holding the balance of power in a town can elect an entire council ticket, even though they have not votes enough to elect a single member under reformed voting. So they might possibly have carried a ticket of five Republicans and one negro at the late election under the old system. Their power for mischief and influence at an election is therefore greatly reduced from what it formerly was. When they are sufficiently numerous they can represent themselves by their own votes to the extent of one member in six, but they can no longer turn the scale between parties and decide the whole result of an election and thus disfranchise nearly one-half of the electors of the town.

THE corner stone of a new M. E. Chapel will be laid on the 12th of May, near Numedia. Rev. J. C. Clarke, late pastor of the Sunbury charge, is expected to officiate. Services will begin at 10:30 A. M. The building is to be a double plank frame 35x50 feet with tower and spire.

THE Wayne Citizen, the Republican organ of Wayne county does not like the Harrisburg nominations. In a lengthy editorial it thus alludes to the nominee for the Supreme Court.

"Of Ulysses Mercur, the nominee for supreme court, nobody ever heard any good except from uninformed or interested sources. He is selfish and grasping to the last degree. * * * After serving for a short time as county judge of Bradford and Susquehanna, he was in 1864 elected to congress by a majority of 1,001. He has manipulated his district conventions so adroitly as to secure a renomination for every subsequent term, and his popularity has assumed such proportions that in 1870 he distanced his democratic competitor by a majority of 124.

THE STATE OF ARKANSAS SOLD FOR TAXES.—Outrageous taxes imposed upon the people of Arkansas, at a time when they had not recovered from the impoverishing effects of the war, worked the forfeiture of the enormous quantity of about 3,000,000 acres of land, or one-seventh part of the whole State, through the nonpayment of taxes. During the past two weeks the State auditor has been engaged in selling these lands. Only about one third of them could find purchasers, and that, on an average, at the small price of the amount of taxes imposed. The unsold lands are now being re-offered for sale, with the prospect that the amount disposed of, added to that sold at the original sale, will not exceed one half the whole 3,000,000 acres. Thus the State will have gotten, after driving many of the people into bankruptcy because they could not meet the onerous taxes levied by unconscionable lawmakers, about half the taxes it demanded. The auditor's office is now being flooded with petitions from all manner of persons, praying the donation to them of the unsold lands. Under the law as it stands, every man, woman and child is entitled, upon proper application, to 160 acres of land.—[Little Rock Gazette, March 9.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BROWN & JONES.—Who are they—They are an enterprising young firm lately established in Catawissa and from the astonishing amount of Dry Goods they sell it evident that the people are attracted by their low prices. They are in constant receipt of fresh goods from New York. They sell only for cash, giving the buyer every possible advantage derived from this plan. A visit to their store will convince the reader of these facts. n4-tf.

THE CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so-called "tonics" and "appetizers," made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are none of these. They are not a beverage, but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. May3-4w

DEAD OR DYING.—Where the hair is unnaturally dry, you may be sure that it is dying; and unless artificially vitalized, it will soon be as dead as leaves in November. Feed the withering fibers and stimulate the torpid scalp with LYON'S KATHAIRON, and the evil, which must otherwise soon culminate in baldness, will be speedily remedied. It is absolutely necessary for the health of the brain, that it be kept moderately moist with a preparation capable of nourishing and invigorating it. LYON'S KATHAIRON fulfills these conditions, and is the only article that actually puts new life into the capillary tubes, through which the natural nourishment has ceased to pass. This pure and harmless preparation is absorbed by the skin of the head to the roots of the hair, and passes into the filaments by the force of capillary attraction.

THE TRUE GROUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.—Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and national consequence of experience. What people see daily going under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic, as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect this precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eyewitnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness, to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

CASTORIA—a substitute for Castor Oil—a vegetable preparation containing neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. It is pleasant to take, does not nauseate, and operates when all other remedies failed. Dr. Pitcher has experimented fifteen years in producing a preparation more efficient than Castor Oil, without its horrid taste. The Castoria regulates the system; cures constipation, stomach ache, croup and flatulency, and kills worms. It does not distress or gripe. By its quieting, soothing effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children.

Important Testimony!

The following letters are among the many we are constantly receiving from persons who have been cured by

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic,
AND
Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Pennsgrove, Salem County, New Jersey.
FEBRUARY 27, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by the efficacy of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

Consumption has been hereditary with my family, most of its members having died at it at early ages. My mother and three brothers died at the age of 31, one brother at 27, and my sister at 13.

I was, when about 31 years, seized with liver complaint, which rapidly developed into Pulmonary Consumption. I was compelled to relinquish my employment (that of a blacksmith.)

I consulted skillful and eminent physicians, and tried many patent nostrums, but without success, so that my friends were sure that there was no hope of my recovery, for I was reduced from 149 pounds to 101, and was not able to do anything without assistance.

By what I now look upon as a Providential interposition, I was induced to try your remedies, and placed myself under your treatment, and so rapid and thorough was my recovery, that it seemed as though some superhuman power was at work, and to-day I am as well as at any time during my life. I weigh 152 pounds, am 38 years old, and for some time have been regularly attending to my business, bidding fair to live to a good old age.

I am thankful to you beyond expression for having placed me in a position wherein I am a benefit instead of a burden to my family.

Your Mandrake Pills are the only medicine I ever use now. I think they are the best in the world.

I can refer you to hundreds of my neighbors who will verify all I have written, and any information any of my fellow citizens may desire will be freely and gladly given, upon receipt of stamp, by Yours, etc.
JOHN C. HEWITT.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 15 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. cor. Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia.

Dear Sir—Please forward, per first steamer, six bottles Sea Weed Tonic and twelve bottles Pulmonic Syrup.

Your medicines are of such value that I cannot be without them in my household, and in fact no family should be without them.

I have given them a fair test, and openly declare them to be even better than you claim.
Very respectfully yours, &c.
W. A. WHITEHURST.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK,

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in sending to you this certificate of the wonderful cure your Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic produced. My throat and bronchial tubes were so highly inflamed that it was almost impossible for me to swallow my food.

I am on a visit to my uncle, Mr. Charles Johnson, No. 83 Federal street, who says your medicines raised him from almost death after all other means had failed, and he having, therefore, full confidence in the virtue of your remedies, strongly recommended me to try them. I did so, and in one week from the time I commenced taking them my throat underwent a very great change for the better, so that I could eat my meals without any difficulty or pain. I can scarcely find words to express my gratitude for the only relief your invaluable medicines produced upon me, and I deem it but an act of gratitude to give you the acknowledgment of my appreciation.
Yours respectfully,
RACHEL M. JACOBS.
N. E. 133 West Thirty-third street, New York.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SEA WEED TONIC,
and MANDRAKE PILLS.

These are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Dr. Schenck has been in constant practice over thirty years continually examining lungs, and knows his medicines, if properly taken, will cure Consumption. His Mandrake Pills cleanse the liver and stomach; his Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, stimulates the coating of the stomach, and makes it digest. His Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter, and nature throws it off without any exertion.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1,25 per bottle, or $7 50 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

How to Set Cabbage Plants.

The cabbage is a plant that needs to be frequently worked, either with the hoe or plow; and in transplanting, they should be so set as to facilitate the after-working. Our experience with them has been limited to garden culture, though on a pretty large scale; and we have long practiced a plan of setting, that renders the after-working with a hoe a very quick operation. We first ridge up the ground in beds, as if for cotton planting, and in dry weather, with the garden line, mark the row distinctly so that the plants may be set in perfectly straight lines, which adds greatly to the fine appearance of the crop in the garden. This row is marked out, not on the top of the bed, but on the side of it, and as near the bottom of the water furrow as it can be, not to have water stand or collect about the plants when they are set.

We prefer a rainy spell for setting plants, and the operation is performed in the usual manner with a short pointed stick for a dibble.

As soon as the rain is over, and the soil dry enough, the plants are carefully but lightly hoed over; and we find frequent stirring of the soil, while the dew is on, early in the morning, very promotive of a quick, vigorous growth. By reason of the plants being set low down on the side of the bed, with the ridge of earth in between every two rows, the first three or four workings are very quickly done by merely drawing down a part of the bed and pulling the fresh earth up around the roots. The operation is much more quick than when the plants are set on level ground, or on top of the beds, as is the practice of many persons. A chief advantage of this method, also, is that when the earth is finally worked down to a level, as it will be, after a few hoeings, the plant is then found to be deeply set in the ground, which is very necessary, if the cabbages are expected to make firm heads.

Are Moles a Pest?

There is a great difference of opinion as to this question. Our own is that the mole is harmless as a rule—sometimes it damages lawns and gardens in pursuit of its food, which usually is the earth worm. If it should go through a hill of corn and injure it by loosing the rootless, it is still in pursuit of the earth-worm, which is, in dry times, found about the roots of corn and other vegetables, grass, &c., more abundantly than elsewhere. So far as our observations extend, we have never known the mole to eat vegetable matter. It would seem to be, strictly, a carniverous animal. And on this head here is something to the point: Mr. Weber, one of the savans of Zurich, Switzerland, recently examined the stomachs of a number of moles caught in different localities, but failed to discover therein the slightest vestige of plants or roots; whereas they were filled by the remains of earthworms. He shut up several of these animals in a box containing earth and sod with growing grass, and a small case of grub or earthworms. In nine days two moles devoured 341 white worms, 163 earthworms, 25 caterpillars, and a dead mouse. Fed with a mixed diet of raw meat and vegetables, the moles ate the meat and left the plants; and when vegetables exclusively were dealt out to them, in twenty-four hours both died of starvation.—Germantown Telegraph.

Pumpkins among Corn.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman says: Corn, as we all know, is a warm climate production, and needs all the warmth of the sun it can get. Where the land is rich, pumpkin vines will almost cover the ground, and consequently the sun's rays cannot shine on and warm the ground, which is so necessary to a good growth of corn. This year by way of experiment I ploughed up 4 acres of moderately rich land, and planted two acres in corn and pumpkins in the usual way, and the rest half corn and pumpkins separate. The first grew well until the vines began to run, and then it seemed almost to stand still; the stalks were large enough, but it did not ear well, while that without the pumpkins was the best piece of corn in the neighborhood. About two thirds was good for seed, while there were more than enough pumpkins to pay for the extra land.

Use Sulphur in Nests.

The powdered sulphur sold by druggists is a cheap preventive of parasites upon young chickens. After a hen has been setting till well-established, sprinkle a small handful upon her eggs when she is off, and upon every part of the nest and for a little distance all around it. When she goes on disturb her just enough to make her bristle her feathers, and then dust another handful down to the skin, upon her head, neck and every part of the body not in contact with the nest, and do not omit to put a small pinch under each wing. Then when the chickens are hatched there will be no vermin whatever to leave the hen and gather upon the young, as is frequently the case when no precautions are taken. One thorough application such as we have described will suffice.—Rural Home.

To Prevent Bees from Swarming,

Take the precaution, when they exhibit a disposition to swarm, to stop most of the outlets from the hive, so as to force them to occupy considerable time in coming out. The swarm is commonly made up of young bees, many of whom cannot fly very well, and as nothing can be done by the swarm until they are all out of the hive, but fly about in the air, by prolonging the time of their coming out, the feeble ones become tired, and finding their plans frustrated, must alight to re-arrange their journey. If they can leave the old hive all at once, they care very little about alighting.

YOUNG CATTLE.—If any farmer wants to stunt his young cattle he has only to turn them adrift, exposed, to wintry winds, and feed them on dry rough fodder. But if he wants them of thrifty and vigorous growth, and to turn out well and hearty in the spring, he must house and feed them with a fair supply of good food, but not so much as to make them gross and feverish. Good sheds, good beds, good water, chopped food mixed with a little bran, an occasional mess of cut roots, and an airing in mild weather, will keep the young stock in growing condition, and in perfect health.

Tilly's Lesson in Geology.

SABRA C. SNELL.

Tilly sat on the old door stone with her two precious pebbles in her hands. They were smooth, and white, and glistening, and came from the shore of that wonderful ocean that Tilly always dreamed about, but never had seen. The Stone Professor himself brought the pebbles to Tilly, and when he leaned out at the window and saw the little maiden holding them against her round red cheeks, he smiled a little all to himself and came and sat down by her, while Tilly looked shy and glad, but didn't speak a word.

"You like them, do you?" said the Stone Professor; "well, I'll tell you a story about them."

"Many, many years ago, Tilly, long before either you or I were born, each one of these little pebbles was a rough piece of stone that had crumbled off from some great rock, and it fell into the water somewhere, only a river, but it lay in some place, where the waves washed over it, and rolled it about, and very slowly these waves wore off the corners and sharp edges, and very slowly the rough stone grew smooth. If you had looked at it one May-day, and not seen it again till the next May-day came, I suppose you would hardly have noticed any change, but it was just a little different; every spring it came out smoother than it was the year before, till, after a great while, all the rough part was gone, and what was left was this beautiful round pebble."

Tilly handled over the two she was holding, while the Stone Professor talked, and tried to make believe they looked as he said they used to, but it was hard work to think that anything so soft as water could have worn off such hard stone.

"And this is another treasure, I suppose," said the professor, picking up a piece of pudding-stone that peeped from the little ruffled pocket of Tilly's apron; "maybe you think this stone was made so; but it was not. Once upon a time, a little pile of gravel stones lay in a hollow all by themselves. There came a great rain, and washed some soft, sticky mud down, and covered them all up; it squeezed itself in among the little stones, and filled every crevice; then, when the rain was over, the sun shone on it, and baked it hard, and afterward it got covered up under sand, and earth, and stones, and there it lay, growing harder all the time, till the mud was a dark-brown stone itself, when some one was digging there one day, found this brown stone, all full of little stones, that look like the raisins in your grandma's Thanksgiving pudding; and that's why they call it pudding-stone."

Tilly laid down her pebbles and examined her queer little bit of pudding-stone, and then laid all three in a straight row on the door-stone. They were very precious in her eyes, and she was just making up her mind to put them in her cabinet and label them "gems," as she had seen some precious things in the professor's cabinet labeled. But just then the professor went on:

"Here's this rough, old door-stone, Tilly; all the scrubbing and scouring in the world could never make it smooth and white like that one over the way. But do you see these queer marks in it—just such marks as the geese make in the mud along the edge of the gutter, only ever and ever so much larger? See, here is one, and here is another; regular bird tracks."

"Why, so they are," said Tilly, getting down on her knees, and laying her chubby fingers in the marks.

"And, once upon a time—you see it's just like a fairy story—once upon a time, this old door-stone wasn't stone at all, but just mud, stiff, gray mud, and a great bird came stalking along, and left its foot-prints in. And the sun dried the mud, and there the tracks were; and the sand blew over them and covered them up, and at last the gray mud itself turned into stone. It was a great many years about it; and, in the meantime, the big bird and all its relations had utterly disappeared, so that when at last men dug up the stone, and saw the curious tracks, they could only guess how the bird looked that made them. Just think, Tilly, the bird that walked over this stone may have died long before Adam was made."

That was a long speech for the Stone Professor, but Tilly seemed to like it.—Little Corporal.

THE DUTIFUL DOG.—A shepherd in the county of Norfolk had a favorite dog, which had been his faithful companion for many years. One day, this shepherd went to remove a flock of sheep from one fold to another. They had to pass by a gap in the hedge, where the shepherd told his faithful servant to watch, saying, "You stand there Jack!"

After the man had led his sheep to their new fold, he went about other work, and thought no more about the dog until the evening; but then, when he was sought for, he was nowhere to be found. The next day, the shepherd chanced to remember what he had told the dog to do the day before. He immediately set out to the place where he had left him, and, to his delight, found him at his post of duty. The poor animal was much pleased to see his master, but he did not move from his post until he was called. Might not many children learn a less of obedience and steadfastness in duty from the shepherd's dog?

GOOD MANNERS.—Young folks should be mannerly. How to be so, is the question. Many a good girl and boy feel that they can't behave to suit themselves in the presence of company. They feel timid, bashful and self-distrustful the moment they are addressed by a stranger, or appear in company. There is but one way to get over this feeling and acquire easy and graceful manners, that is, do the best they can all the time at home as well as abroad. Good manners are not learned by arbitrary teaching so much as acquired by habit. They grow upon us by use. We must be courteous, agreeable, civil, kind, gentlemanly and womanly at home, and then it will become a kind of second nature to be so everywhere. A course, rough manner at home begets a habit of roughness which we cannot lay off if we try, when we go among strangers. The most agreeable people we have ever known in company are those who are perfectly agreeable at home. Home is the school for all good things, especially for good manners.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind,

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or Vital Principle of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, (or as medicinally termed Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1.50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it will most certainly be cheated.

Who would ask for more Dignified and Stronger Testimony?

PHILADELPHIA, March 16th, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of action in the system. Yours truly

HON. JAMES THOMSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

HON. WM. F. ROGERS, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mayor's Office, Buffalo, June 22, 1869.

I have used "Hooflands German Bitters and Tonic" in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tonic, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects.
WM. F. ROGERS.

HON. JAMES M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep my food in my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S
OR
SUBSTITUTE FOR MERCURY PILLS.
TWO PILLS A DOSE.

It is not necessary to take a handfull of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principle ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain the hold, or even assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN Remedies that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it.

These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a TOILET APPENDAGE of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisits, SAFETY and EFFICACY—the invariable accompaniment of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, and CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed.
